REMODELING A KITCHEN OR DEMOLISHING A HOUSE?

Choose Habitat DeConstruction Services

Habitat DeConstruction Services are a cost-effective and environmentally responsible way to remove or dismantle residential structures while maximizing material recovery. Performed mostly by hand, this method can result in the salvage of up to 85% of a building's materials for reuse or recycling. Materials gleaned from this service are sold at the Habitat for Humanity of Wake County ReStore. All revenue generated from DeConstruction Services and the sale of the salvaged materials at the Habitat ReStore supports Habitat for Humanity of Wake County.
