

Make a global impact!

Join Habitat Wake's 2018 Honduras Trip.

Travel with a mission team to La Ceiba, Honduras, February 3-11 to build new homes!

Join Habitat Wake and Habitat for Humanity Honduras for this special global build and help bring strength, stability and independence to families in need of a decent place to live. As you build a home with a Honduran family, you'll be welcomed into the community. You'll eat traditional food and meet the neighbors whose lives you're helping to improve.

Enjoy a hands-on building project, experience the area like an insider and share the trip with a team of like-minded volunteers. No experience is required!

After six years of work in Santa Rose de Copan, this is Habitat Wake's first visit to La Ceiba, the ecotourism capital of Honduras. Located on the northern Caribbean coast of Honduras, La Ceiba is the gateway to the Bay Islands of Honduras. Four national parks are within easy access: Pico Bonito and Nombre de Dios National Parks, the Cuero y Salado Wildlife Refuge and the Cayos Cochinos Marine Monument. The area is known for white water rafting and kayaking, as well as beautiful coastal views. La Ceiba is an ethnic melting pot, with Garifunas, Bay Islanders, Miskito natives, and many expatriates residing in the community. The Honduras headquarters of Standard Fruit Company (Dole) are in La Ceiba.

The 2018 Honduras Trip is being called the 360 Trip, honoring Habitat Wake President Kevin Campbell's three-decade tenure with Habitat and his 60th birthday in March. Kevin shares those three decade and 60 year milestones with wife Gayle Campbell, a human resources manager with Habitat for Humanity International. Our goal is for 30 members to join the 360 Trip Team.

Seeking to put God's love into action, Habitat for Humanity brings people together to build homes, communities and hope.

You may fundraise for your trip! Fundraising is as easy as telling your friends, family and co-workers about why you build with Habitat for Humanity. They may even ask to join the team! Habitat Wake staff will help you set you up a great website and guide you to success.

Volunteers are encouraged to set a fundraising goal over the minimum. Every donation you raise keeps Habitat building after your team returns home and helps us serve another family.
